Young girls today often do not receive a Christian perspective on their coming-of-age cycle. Mothers sometimes do not realize how they can place a Christian view on such an event in a girl's life. In this workshop, mothers and daughters learn together about this topic, educating themselves and sparking useful conversation between them about God's design for women.

"Not just a blessing for the Maidens but also for us – the Maiden's Mother! I learned more than a thing or two. I am also grateful for the openness the girls had in asking what was on their minds. I forgot what it was like pre-menstruation. Maidens by His Design has been a launch for several candid conversations my daughter and I have had since our first class."
